Will China build an EV battery plant in Slovakia?

Nov 23 (Reuters) - China's Gotion High Tech (002074.SZ) and Slovak partner InoBat have signed a memorandum to build an electric vehicle (EV) battery plant in Slovakia, the Slovak Economy Ministry said on Thursday.

Will there be a new battery plant in Europe in 2026?

Europe will see another battery plant come online in 2026. China-based battery maker Gotion High-tech and Slovak startup InoBat plans to build a battery factory in Slovakia. The facility will initially have an annual production capacity of 20GWh. Gotion and Inobat have formed a joint venture, Gotion Inobat Batteries (GIB), for the project.

When will gotion INOBAT batteries start building a factory in Slovakia?

According to the agreement, Gotion InoBat Batteries (GIB) will start building the factory in 2024 and the Slovakian government will grant subsidies, provide the 65-hectare site for the factory, prepare the building plot and ensure the connection to the power grid.

Will Gib build a battery plant in Middle Europe?

The news came after Gotion said in September that it aims to build a battery plant in Middle Europe with Inobat, of which it has acquired a 25% strategic stake. According to the MoU signed on Wednesday, GIB plans to begin constructing the factory in 2024. The Slovak government will offer subsidies to the project and arrange the land.

When will gotion INOBAT batteries be made?

Production is expected to start in the second quarter of 2026 and series production in 2027. The Gotion InoBat Batteries battery cell factory is expected to have an initial annual capacity of 20 gigawatt-hours, which can potentially be doubled to 40 GWh.

Where will INOBAT batteries be made?

Independently of the Gotion InoBat Batteries factory, InoBat itself is planning a 100 MWh pilot production facility in Voderady and a 10 GWh factory from 2024. Slovakian Prime Minister Robert Fico sees investor confidence in the choice of location as proof that Slovakia is returning to the map of economically attractive countries.
