How much will Portugal pay for a floating PV project?

It has agreed to pay -EUR4 (-$4.39)/MWh for a 15-year contract, but with a 30-year grid connection for the floating array and other renewables projects. Portugal's Directorate General for Energy and Geology (DGEG) wrapped up the country's first auction for floating PV projects this week.

Who paid for Mystery Island's New tender pier?

Royal Caribbean celebrated with senior Vanuatu government representatives the completion of Mystery Island's brand new tender pier yesterday with a maiden visit from Explorer of the Seas. The $2.5 million pier was paid for by Royal Caribbean and replaced an older, smaller pier, which was frequently damaged during cyclones.

Why does Port Vila have a bigger pier?

The bigger pier also allows the island to handle increasingly larger cruise ships as the local industry evolves. This follows the earlier upgrade of the cruise berth in the capital Port Vila, where Royal Caribbean supported the addition of four new bollards capable of berthing its Voyager Class ships.
